

What is claimed is:

1. A disposable wearing article including a front stretchable multilayer member defining an abdominal-side front zone, a rear stretchable multilayer member defining a dorsal-side rear zone, and an absorbent body disposed to bridge between said front stretchable multilayer member and said rear stretchable multilayer member, wherein said front stretchable multilayer member and said rear stretchable multilayer member are joined together to form a waist opening, said disposable wearing article comprising:

at least one cutting line formed in either one of said front stretchable multilayer member and said rear stretchable multilayer member each having a first end defining said waist opening and a second end opposed to said first end, said cutting line extending between said first and second ends; and a fastening member detachably engaging between said absorbent body and said stretchable multilayer member formed with said cutting line, wherein said cutting line is formed to pass through a superimposed portion of said absorbent body and said stretchable multilayer member formed with said cutting line.

2. The disposable wearing article as defined in claim 1, wherein said fastening member is adapted to allow said disposable wearing article in the state after said stretchable multilayer member formed with said cutting line is cut open to be reconstructed and used in a pant-like configuration.
